

Dear colleagues,

You persistent transmitters of knowledge, the pillars of society, all of you whose salaries haven't been raised for thirty months; those of you who haven't received your jubilee prizes, whose success at competitions is expected, but the awards are not meant; you, the hostages of secret rationalization; you, the disgraced by the law and insufficiently respected for years, to all of you – we congratulate the international holiday of work, never more relevant and needed than now. We wish us not to forget that just the SOLIDARITY remained, because nobody has been taking care about us since long time ago. So, create, think, attempt the impossible, because – WHO IS GOING TO DO IT IF NOT YOU? WHEN, IF NOT NOW?

Yours, Forum of elementary schools of Belgrade
